

Physician Involvement Is Vital to Success of GRIPA Connect™ Clinical Integration

Many GRIPA physicians, through several committees, are volunteering their time to help develop our GRIPA Connect™ Clinical Integration program. Development and adoption of the guidelines are essential to being a clinically integrated group.

There are countless guidelines being drafted by various groups and insurers across the country, but our guidelines are being created by our own physicians.

The Clinical Integration Committee (CIC) is comprised of both primary care and specialist physicians who are members of GRIPA and are practitioners in the community. This group meets monthly and has the primary responsibility for selection of guideline topics and development of the guidelines.

Many physicians have devoted innumerable hours to help with this process. We would like to thank especially the following physicians who participated in the process during the past two-and-a-half years:
